

Lutheran Women's Missionary League Ohio District Edition – ODE

Celebrate the Lord of the Nations!

Our 40th Biennial Convention of the LWML was truly a celebration of our God and the nations in which he is being taught and honored. I have been looking over the videos made during the convention sessions, deciding which parts I want to tell you about.

I was especially moved this time by the "Mites in Action" speakers. These are missionaries who have received and used our mission grants to share God's love in various parts of the world. After the description of each one, I will write which session they spoke in and at what point of the video you can hear them for yourself. Start by visiting www.lwml.org. Choose the News and Events tab, then Convention Central, then scroll down to "Go to Livestream."

Rev. Dr. Steven Schave spoke about the Lutheran Association of Missionaries and Pilots. Our grant enabled them to repair and equip the planes they use to reach small groups of people in the northern reaches of Canada. [Friday morning, 3:16:30 – 3:33:00]

Phil Zielke is the founder of Phil's Friends, the organization that sends care packages and encouraging cards to cancer victims. He tells about his cancer journey and the people who cared enough to send lots of cards and point him to Scripture's hope. Many people have been touched and brought to Jesus Christ through Phil's Friends. They are mentioned in a very moving talk. [Friday afternoon, 2:26 – 2:50]

Rev. Ted Krey and Rev. Charles Ferry, regional directors for our LCMS missionaries, spoke about how often they have been to places where the LWML was instrumental in opening churches, orphanages, and seminaries. Their wives also gave the woman's point of view about what it's like to be the wife of a missionary. Together, the two families have eleven children, who closed their presentation with a song. [Saturday morning, 1:52 – 2:15]

Lutheran Hour Ministries Director Kurt Buchholz spoke about the LHM mission efforts. He shared four statements that began, "We will not rest until..." Everyone has had the opportunity to hear about Christ and join a community of believers in their own language and culture. Then he talked specifically about reaching out to Kazak women in Mongolia. [Saturday morning, 2:22 – 2:42]

Rev. Doua Xiong was scheduled to fly in to speak to us on Friday. When his flight was cancelled, he drove with his family from Merced, California and reached us in time to speak on Sunday. His ministry focuses on serving the Hmong community. Our grant provided educational materials in the Hmong language. [Sunday morning, 56:00 – 1:09:00]

I hope I have given you enough reasons to turn to your computer and experience some of the most exciting parts of the convention. If you listen to the beginning of each session you will hear the song leader who kept us happily praising God, and sometimes even wiggling.

On Page 3 you will find a list of other convention highlights and where to look for our Humorous Interrupters' adventures.

Keep filling your Mite Boxes and keep praying for our missionaries.

Connected

I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. Every branch in me that does not bear fruit he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. Already you are clean because of the word that I have spoken to you. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in me. I am the vine; you are the branches. Whoever abides in me and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing (John 15:1-5).

Grace and peace are yours in Jesus! Christ is risen and is with us! This is vital. Imagine spending some of the latest sweltering days without air conditioning or at least the option of air conditioning. Can you imagine these same days without water? Things would not turn out well to say the least!

Christ has given us life. Yes. God is responsible for our entire existence, yet we are also loved by God and called by the Spirit's work in the Gospel to believe in Jesus who gives us life forever. There are two ways in which this life is not ours alone. It doesn't depend on us and end with us. We have a life to live for the sake of others and if we believed it was up to us to share this life with others on our own, it would be like spending a very warm day without water. Things would not turn out well.

This coming school year, many LCMS schools are using the theme "Connected", based on John 15. Jesus is the vine and we are the branches. In this picture, we recognize that our strength, sustenance, and purpose come from our connection to Him. We are part of God's design. Intricately woven into His plan to share the good news of redemption and salvation. We live from Christ in order to share his life with others.

CONNECTED

Just as branches draw nourishment and life from the vine, we draw spiritual nourishment and life from our union with Christ. It is through Him that we are set free from the power of sin, redeemed, and transformed. This freedom is not for our own benefit alone but equips us to share God's love with others, whether they are great or small, near or far.

The Lutheran Women's Missionary League is not alone. Jesus promised to be with us always, providing guidance, strength, and joy. As we trust in Him, our lives become a testimony to His abiding presence, and our future is secure with Him forever. We find joy not only in knowing that Jesus is with us every step of the way, but also in that we get to share this life with others in Jesus' name.

As you prayerfully engage in the work of the LWML, continue to encourage other women from your congregation to be a part of this life connected not only to Christ, but to all the Christ-minded women that have the privilege of serving the Lord with gladness.

May God bless and keep you as you are connected to Him for the sake of those who need the connection God gives through you.

Peace in Jesus,

Ryan Kleimola, Pastoral Counselor

Learning about the Structure Committee

My name is Liz Underwood, and I serve on the LWML Ohio District Structure Committee. I joined this committee because I was interested in being Parliamentarian for the LWML Ohio District and wanted to know more about Robert's Rules. On this committee I have learned about bylaws. We reviewed one zone's bylaws. Structure Committee Chairman Beth Christopherson encouraged me to interview current zone officers and a few long-time LWML members to answer questions I had.

Writing the proposed bylaws helped me become more aware of the specific responsibilities expected of the officers. I also became aware of the overall structure built in to guide meetings as well as planning for involvement in LWML events determined by each zone. Bylaws were always intimidating to me; however, as I consider the valuable information it contains, it becomes a trusted friend. It was fortunate for me as I navigated this process, that there were proposed amendments to the LWML Bylaws on which the delegates would vote at the national convention in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

This document provided an excellent guide for organizing our proposed amendments.

At the national convention, I learned a few things I hadn't fully understood until I witnessed the process. The first item involved rescinding a standing rule. A standing rule can be rescinded by the voting assembly without notice by a two-thirds vote. It passed easily. Another process I understood better was when the last proposed amendment (Article XX-Fiscal Year: changing the fiscal year to fiscal biennium) was discussed and brought to a vote. It was smart of the board to separate this from the other proposals. There was a thoughtful question asked and the treasurer provided a very well-thought-out response that persuaded the voters to approve it with a 93.7% approval.

It was awesome to witness and showed me the value of the rationale that always accompanies a proposed amendment. I am thankful to be serving on the LWML Ohio District Structure Committee and look forward to learning many more aspects of the structural make-up of this wonderful women's organization. Eventually, I'll tackle Robert's Rules!

Liz Underwood, Structure Committee

All about the Grants!

Hello friends, I pray that your summer solstice treats you and your loved ones well! Can you believe that it has been a year since we were all together at St. Paul Lutheran Church in Napoleon voting for grant beneficiaries? As a newly appointed member of the Mission Grants Committee, I am writing to update you on two grant recipients: Good Shepherd of the Deaf in Toledo, Ohio and Worship Anew in Fort Wayne, Indiana

The Good Shepherd of the Deaf requested and received $1,400 on August 7, 2022, to purchase a monitor for their sanctuary. This church has a strong desire to preach God's love to the deaf, the hard-of-hearing, and the hearing alike. One major way of communicating in the deaf community is through pictures that serve as symbols. Pastor Shirrel Petzoldt detailed that this monitor did not work until June 18, 2023, due to technical difficulties. However, Joe and his son Chris worked many Sundays to make this possible. This monitor not only helps the choir see the music, but also helps Pastor Shirrel understand the sermon and symbols to spread God's Word.

Joe and Chris

Worship Anew requested $5,000 and received half on February 20, 2023, and the other half on May 31, 2023. This was to expand their televised service. Worship Anew shares the love of Christ through ministry and media by producing weekly 30-minute Lutheran worship services distributed three ways:

- † Broadcast station
- † DVD subscription
- † Webcast

Matthew Leighty, executive director at Worship Anew, stated that instead of being broadcast once in Toledo, Ohio, they are now being broadcast twice on WLMB-40 on Sunday mornings at 6:30 a.m. and on CW-13 on Sunday mornings at 10:30 a.m. They also are broadcasting in Cleveland and in Lima, and Matthew mentioned that they also provide services to those serving in the military, as there is a shortage of chaplains.

To continue to sponsor needs such as these, please continue to collect mites, because without these, not all grants can be funded. The Grant applications for the 2024-2026 biennium need to be submitted by October 31, 2023, to be considered.

Take good care and I hope you enjoy all of God's summer splendor.

Diane A. Sweinhagen, Mission Grants

Small and Large Acts of Kindness

Attending the LWML Convention in Milwaukee this past week, one of my favorite parts of the program was hearing Mites in Action speakers tell us about the work being done in the mission field as a result of LWML Mission Grants. But I was impressed by personally seeing examples of service in numerous ways in the convention center itself.

Examples of how service was given to the whole assembly included how we were ministered to by several at the convention site. Immediately noticeable were the volunteers on the host committee, who smiled and assisted everyone in a warm and friendly manner. There were signing interpreters for the deaf in addition to an interpreter who typed out the script of the speakers on the screens above the Dias. Convention employees also served beverages at mealtime. There were countless other instances. Too many examples to list in this article, but not all were obvious. Imagine just one small act of service given to another person on a personal level by someone they probably didn't know. I can imagine how those various interactions were probably multiplied exponentially by others during the convention.

The Gospels are full of instances where Jesus healed, blessed, comforted, taught, and forgave people. For those instances in the Bible, we don't know how each life was changed or what the people did with that blessing. We know, however, that even though the Bible doesn't give us those details, we are certain that the impact was powerful and life-changing.

Instead, think about the effect and significance your personal, quiet service can have on others. These are often small, insignificant intentional actions you take in your life. Do you share your smile and kind words wherever you travel? Do you visit or send cards to shut-ins or hospital patients? Do you take meals or visit friends who are ill or recuperating from surgery? Do you visit nursing homes or assisted living facilities? Do you reach out to new mothers? Do you pray for and with those who recently lost a loved one? Do you introduce yourself and speak to those sitting in the pews around you who you may not know? Can you leave a tract or an LWML Mustard Seed devotion with your tip at a restaurant?

Human Care Committee encourages women to participate in human care activities for individuals, groups, zones, rallies, and other LWML events. Those activities often include servant events, ingatherings, offering encouragement, providing prayer support, and so many other ways.

For creative ideas, visit www.lwml.org, then click on Service, and then click on Mission Service Activities. There is an idea posted each month. Also on the right side of the page go to, View More Activities.

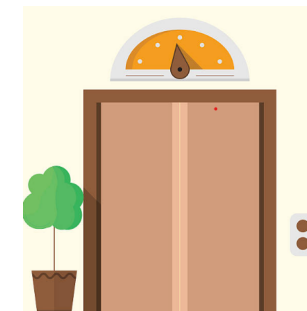

Serve wholeheartedly, as if you were serving the Lord, not people (Ephesians 6:7).

Jesus is The Power to keep on Working

So, who worked the hardest and most, without ceasing at our magnificent "Lord of the Nations" 40th Biennial Convention of the LWML in Milwaukee?

In this case, it was not the "WHO?" but rather the "WHAT?" You may have your own thoughts, but for now, my choices are the escalators and elevators. Let's think about this ... How quickly (or not) could we each reach our convention sessions on time if they broke down? Oh, yes, they "hiccupped" briefly a couple of times but were back up and running in minutes. Without them, how many sessions would we arrive late for? How many exhibits would we forgo because we had to "hot-foot" it to hopefully arrive on time - or late - to our next activity?

The escalators and elevators allowed us extra time to visit and appreciate the beautiful details at the International Flags exhibit for instance. Or check out MANY wonderful "helps" from our LWML bookstore. There was an assortment of books and items for your own worship encouragement and enjoyment, but also for our families and friends.

Some people only recognize our Savior as "Oh, yes, Jesus Christ is whose birth we celebrate at Christmas - along with Santa Claus." For some folks, that's the only honor our Lord receives. As Christians, it is our love and duty to share our Christian life with others. As LWML women, we have many helpful items from our bookstore to break the ice. Some are subtle, if speaking makes you uncomfortable at the beginning.

Our Christ-centered gifts include a wide variety of wonderful books and Christian jewelry, mementos to display as wall hangings, pictures, favorite Bible passages, along with many other items for children, teens and adults. Use the LWML bookstore website for ordering those special gifts any time, any day, around the clock.

Go to lwml.org and click on the yellow SHOP button on the right. That will take you to eight different tabs to choose from of available items. Oh YES! The Christian Life Committee is well aware of and thanks and honors every single woman, man, and even child who organized and put in so many hours to prepare and present such a memorable 40th Biennial Convention of the LWML. Blessings to all!

Barb Berner, Christian Life Committee

Convention Fun

The 2023 LWML Convention was wonderful! Three thousand five hundred ladies and many pastors attended the convention in Milwaukee. The opening worship was spirit-filled with communion, a 320-member choir, and approximately 4,000 people in attendance.

Lord of the Nations from Psalm 33:12-13 was the theme. Bible study leader Kaye Wolff gave us many Scriptures and how we are called to be the light of the nations and give God praise at all times. Her singing was beautiful!

Dr. Dina Vendetti was so much fun and led us in an amazing worship, some body movement and her piano playing was incredible! This being my 3rd convention, she was my favorite in singing/worship songs. She kept her focus on Jesus which made a difference in the worship.

I also attended a technology seminar that was an eye-opener! The LWML is very detailed in logistics, from grammar to which color logos to use and even which Bible translation to use in all communication which is now the ESV standard. It was a fast two hours.

Friday night's fest was crazy but fun. I participated in chair volleyball, cornhole, and kazoo singing while my roommate took photos. Saturday night the Lutheran Ladies Lounge was awesome with many skits, laughter and hmmm made you think. Check out their podcast: The Lutheran Ladies' Lounge.

Close to 3,000 people completed the one mile River Walk. We saw interesting sights on our walk. As we walked through the park, we were met by families, people who looked at our teal tee shirts and even asked what we were doing. We saw cyclists who forgot to wear clothing!

Mission Walk

The convention also conducted business where they elected President Eden Keefe. Thirty-one grants were approved with a mites goal of $2,441,070.62 for the next biennium (2023-2025). The next convention will be in Omaha, Nebraska!

The LWML Ohio District was blessed to send three Young Women Representatives (YWR), 14 delegates, and two Heart-to-Heart sisters (Heba and Dorene). We had 84 folks from the WML Ohio District come to the convention. It was encouraging to see many YWR's and some of them were pregnant! Mission Grant recipients were inspirational and touching through God's Spirit. It was moving to see so many Pastors in the procession at opening worship on Thursday evening.

Heart to Heart

Was Jesus a refugee? An immigrant? A stranger in a foreign land? The answer is YES.

When they had departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream and said, "Rise, take the child and his mother, flee to Egypt, and stay there until I tell you. Herod is going to search for the child to destroy him" (Mathew 2:13).

Imagine Joseph and Mary traveling to a new country with child. Fleeing danger! How did they feel? Did they know the language? Did they fit into the culture? Did they have moments when they felt lonely and isolated like outsiders? It's a lot to think about when you meet someone here in the U.S. from another country. Can you see what is behind their outward appearance? Can you see Jesus, Mary, and Joseph in them? Are you willing to step out of your comfort zone and welcome Jesus into your country by showing them kindness and love? How do you do this? First, know that they're very worthy recipients and WAITING!

Get together and plan. Here are some ideas:

- ♥ Celebrate with food or special events for Thanksgiving and Christmas.
- ♥ Collect donations needed, like food, clothes, furniture, and toys.
- ♥ Start classes, like ESL, citizenship, sewing, or cooking.

How to get the word out?

- ♥ Never be hesitant to initiate conversations.
- ♥ Create flyers to be posted on social media, church websites, or left at ethnic stores.

But wait! There's more! While it's helpful to consider how Jesus can and should be seen in these often neglected groups we are talking about, it's imperative to remember Jesus is more than any of these categories, He is the Son of God who took on human flesh, bore our sin and saved us. In the end, we would all have had nothing but Him. More than that through faith in Him, we receive the perfect life He desires for us and that life is full of love for our neighbors, even the neighbors from all around the world that arrive at our doorsteps. May the Holy Spirit guide us to repent of our inhospitality and see the needs we can meet for others in His love!

Napoleon Zone

The ladies met on April 15, 2023, for the Napoleon Zone Spring Rally. The program started with an opening devotion by Pastor Stephen Niermann about how God's Word can make a difference in our lives.

Reverend Michael Nichol shared how his God-given gift of linguistics led him to serve in Nigeria in 1986 to create a written language for the Gokana language. He started by learning the oral language. Along with other Christians he helped create a written language for the Gokana language.

They started by creating an alphabet. Then they created primers for people to learn the written language. There was a lot of excitement when the book of Mark was printed in the Gokana language.

Reverend Nichol lives in Ohio and serves as a consultant to both the Lutheran Bible Translators and the Lutheran Heritage Foundation on the Gokana language. Currently they are in the process of printing the complete Bible in the Gokana language. Reverend Nichol emphasized how important it is to translate God's word into the language of all nations. The closing devotion was given by Reverend Stuenkel with a message titled, "God Really knows us". A big thank you to the ladies of St. John, Freedom for hosting such an uplifting rally.

Deb Volkman, Napoleon Zone President

Toledo Zone

The women of Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, Oregon, Ohio, hosted the LWML Toledo Zone Spring Rally. The Rev. Jon Genszler, pastor at Prince of Peace, led the opening devotion. We opened with singing "Freely, Freely, Given." Pastor's message was based on Psalm 136:25.

The rally speaker, Debbie Lisk, Administrative Assistant, Food Pantry Coordinator, Lutheran Social Services of Northwest Ohio (LSSNWO), asked the question, "What does hunger look like?" Hunger affects a person's whole life, including food, transportation, medication, and housing. Many do not know where their next meal will come from. At LSSNWO, a five-day supply from each food group is available for each family member, portioned for three meals per person, per day. This is a choice pantry so individuals will not receive food they will not eat. Canned fruit, condiments, cake mix, and cookies are also available. Clients may visit once each month and must register.

This pantry was started in a closet in the 1970's. Jiffy is a regular supplier as are other food banks. People come with backpacks, on bicycles, by bus, with walkers, wheelchairs, and by car.

The pantry volunteers show kindness and respect for all clients. Other services, regarding mental health, partner abuse, re-entry after incarceration for addiction, help with finding housing, and employment are available. LSSNWO works with Behavioral Health, Toledo Public Schools, and financial advisors.

With the rally theme, "Gifts of Love," the designated food pantry gathering was canned fruit. Debbie loaded her vehicle with fruit cases.

We are thankful for the items brought for LSSNWO and the Thrivent Action card for helping to purchase additional cans of fruit.

With her term ending, President Karen Shanahan, opened the business meeting. She shared greetings from the LWML Ohio District. Rev. Jon Rusche, Toledo Zone's newly appointed Pastoral Counselor, installed the newly elected officers, Corrine Sattler, President and Becky Brown, Treasurer. We sang "Beautiful Savior" and Rev. Jon Genszler led the closing and asked God's blessing on the ingathering items.

Lillian Keller

Cincinnati Zone

The final LWML event of the year is always the Cincinnati Zone's "Missions in Motion." April 30 was a delightful Tea Party event, and the Zion Lutheran hostesses welcomed the 48 zone members with hot tea on the cool afternoon and with tasty tea sandwiches and desserts by the bite!

We immediately launched into our program with the People of the Bible Lutheran Outreach (POBLO) missionary speakers Joseph and his wife telling of their experiences of bringing the love of our faith to Muslim refugees in the Columbus, Ohio area. Their passion was evident during their presentation, and they shared their vast experiences from life-long mission trips, even before arriving in the US. They were both born and raised in Christian families in Egypt. What effective missionaries they were, making friends with the refugees and showing the love of Jesus before teaching and sharing Jesus' name.

Peggy Kelm

Our estates are full of God's gifts. One of the greatest joys of life God gives us is to give away His gifts and to be able to see the joyful response of those receiving them.

Through it all, we aim to share Jesus with the families we love and the ministries we support. Putting a plan together to bless both family and ministry is an honor. Your LWML Gift Planning Counselor can help you get started. Contact Linda Gage at
